SOUNDS FISHY

The story about the striped bass Whitey Zinsmeyer caught sure gets around.

Only thing is the stripes change directions depending on who is telling the fish story.

I got in on the middle of it the other morning at the Chamber of Commerce office and I am sure there was a fish with stripes because it came from Woody Glasscock's tank out from D'Hanis. Several years ago Woody stocked the tank with striped bass. But I sure am mixed up about which way the stripes ran.

Henry Finger insists the stripes went diagonally; someone else says they went round and round; another says they went up and down; and Bob Zerr said he even heard they ran parallel to the fence--but we can't determine which fence.

One thing for sure. He weighed 4-3/4 pounds and was a beauty--stripes included.

WORTHWHILE EFFORT

The Hondo Chamber of Commerce is taking on another task--a worthwhile one of being a focal point for employers and potential employees to get together.

Texas Employment officials talked to Harry Filleman who thought it was a good idea and sold the Board on it Monday night.

This can be a beneficial undertaking for both employer and the people who want work. Read the full story elsewhere in this issue of the Anvil Herald and take advantage of this office.

In making my rounds selling advertising I hear one strong line over and over, "No one is spending money, there is no need to advertise."

Agreed, spending is slower for many reasons.

Museum Day planners seek public help

Participation of the public proved to be the key to the success of Museum Day last year, and a repeat of that cooperation will begin Monday night at the Medina Electric Coop when the public is invited to a planning session for Museum Day 1971.

Museum Day chairman Burnis Lawrence has issued an invitation to attend to all persons interested in seeing this challenging project through to completion.

"We feel like we can stage another successful Museum Day," Lawrence said. "But we will again need the cooperation of hundreds of people."

Lawrence explained that the program of the day is still flexible although all the successful events of last year will be retained. Some of the most successful events included; the Antique Auction, the Country Store, the Games Booth, the Purple Petticoat Saloon, the baseball dunk, the barbecued chicken, the Starving Artist show, the Fishing Pond, the Hot Dog booth, the Ice Cream Booth, the sidewalk cafe, the cake sale and all the fine entertainment.

"We will add others, I am sure," Lawrence said. "So we are asking representatives of various organizations who participated last year, as well as all others who might be interested to be on hand Monday night and help get the big day plans on the way."

D'Hanis area father dies after pickup tire blows

A D'Hanis man died of injuries received in a pickup truck accident Sunday night, and two Hondo companions were hospitalized.

Dead is Manuel M. Gonzales, Jr., 25, driver of the truck. Taken to Medina Memorial Hospital where they were reported in good condition were Raymundo Tapia, 32, and Ascencion Palomo, 24, both of Hondo.

According to the Department of Public Safety, the left rear tire on the south-bound truck blew out about five miles south of Bandera on FM 689 around 7 p.m. Sunday.

The truck went out of control, ran off the road down a steep embankment and overturned.

Gonzales suffered head injuries and was transferred to Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio about 8 o'clock Sunday by emergency helicopter ambulance. He died there at 10:05 p.m.

Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder called for the helicopter ambulance, and the emergency air lift unit arrived at Medina Memorial Hospital within 30 minutes. It was on the ground less than five minutes before it lifted off en route to Santa Rosa.

Hitzfelder said the trip was the eighth made in Medina County by the emergency helicopter ambulance. The sheriff again requested that local residents write their elected representatives in Congress and ask that the service be made available permanently.

Emergency helicopter ambulance service started in October on a trial basis, and was extended for another three months ending in March, Hitzfelder said.

The 1970 sale covered 24 calves from eight entries. This year the rules were changed to call for two calves per entry, and there were 14 entries

New high hit by show prices

If auction receipts are any indication, the 1971 Medina County Junior Livestock Show was a bigger success than the successful 1970 show.

Proceeds from the premium sale Tuesday were $36,078.29, an increase of $1465.29 over the 1970 sale. And receipts for the 1970 sale were up $1500 over 1969.

In 1970 receipts from the commercial calf sale dropped below the '69 total, but there were fewer animals sold. This year sales dipped again - by $97.63 - and the decrease was blamed on lower prices. Sales totaled $4818.60.

making 28 calves, four more than in 1970. Vince Gilliam's grand champion calf sold for $1.03 a pound in the premium sale, the 975 pound animal bringing $1004.25. Gilliam is from South Hondo 4H.

Dirk Elliott of Medina Valley FFA did not sell his reserve champion calf. Other calf prices ranged from 50 cents down to 40 cents.

Vickie King's grand champion market pig brought $1.75, and Rodney Hitzfelder's reserve champion went for $1. Miss King of LaCoste 4H got $327.25 for her animal, and Hitzfelder's entry brought $216.

He's a member of Medina Valley FFA.

Other hog prices ranged from 87 cents down to 43 cents.

In the lamb divisions, Robert Marquis of South Hondo 4-

H had the grand champion fine wool, August Rothe of D'Hanis FFA showed the grand champion medium weight, and Cliff Heyen of North Hondo 4H had the crossbred grand champion.

Reserve champions were shown by Roland Rothe, D'Hanis 4H (fine wool), Robin Saathoff of North Hondo 4H (medium wool) and Jimmy Mummme, Hondo FFA (crossbred).

Prices paid for the animals at auction and total money were: Marquis, $2,15; $223.60; August Rothe, $2,168; Heyen, $2,15; $212.85; Ronald Rothe, $1,50; $135; Saathoff, $1,50; $126; and Mummme, $1,05; $102.90.

Other lamb prices varied from $1.70 down to 70 cents.

Stephen Bourquin of Medina Valley FFA sold his grand champion fryers for $53, and the reserve champions, entered by Pat Eaves of Natalia 4H, sold for $35.

Bidders paid from $23 up to $36 for other fryer entries.

The grand champion capon entry, raised by Larry Mays of Natalia FFA, brought $50, while Deborah McDonald's reserve champion entry went for $55.

Prices paid for other capon entries ranged from $24 to $32.

Photos of grand champions in today's issue were taken by Fr. Victor Schmidt of D'Hanis Holy Cross Church. The Anvil Herald regrets that prints of all winning entries were not available by press-time.

Weather
Taylor-Chapman Service

By Dr. O. B. Taylor

Just a word on weather -- three early morning moon changes in February should help get us back on the damp side for a change.

MOON CHANGES

Feb. 10, full moon, 1:41 a.m.; Feb. 18, last quarter, 6:14 a.m.; Feb. 25, new moon, 3:49 a.m.

So, somewhere around these dates, I am looking for some rain.

Our last rain of any consequence occurred in Sept., 1970. Hondo had 1.20 on Sept. 12-13; M. M. Fohn, north of Hondo, reported 4.65; Rancho Chico, north of D' Hanis had 1.30 on Sept. 23 (Equinox) and Hondo had 1.65. Total for September was 5.50 (not bad for one month).

With the change in date of Washington's Birthday to February 15 (now called Birthing-ton's Wash Day) I don't know what the good farmers in the Yancey community will do. For many, many years it was a custom or established tradition that February 22 was 'THE DAY' to plant corn. And they were faithful to that tradition.

A cold spell now moving south out of Canada is due to hit this area Friday and Saturday.

Group starts

A group of Hondo people are trying to organize a flying club in this area.

Harry Filleman at the Hondo Chamber of Commerce is taking the names and addresses of persons who are interested in joining the club.

An organizational meeting will be called as soon as possible.

Poerner's cornerCode of ethics bill sponsored

By John H. Poerner, State Representative, District No. 49

CODE OF ETHICS - Representative Jim Nugent of Kerrville gained tremendous support for his ethics bill following many news releases concerning state officials during the opening days of the session. I was happy to be the first to co-sponsor this bill with my neighboring colleague and I think it is a good idea.

I would be willing to include all other public officials, who are entrusted with public funds or by virtue of their office create laws, ordinances and policies for the improvement of society. Anyone having anything to hide should not be in public office.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME - Representative Doran of Del Rio, and I are supporting a non-binding referendum to be placed on a state-wide ballot to allow the people of Texas to decide the issue of Daylight Savings Time.

If the vote is favorable, we think this will give rural legislators an advantage against the strong business lobby who have consistently opposed removing Texas from the federal requirement.

We are optimistic about the chances of this resolution being adopted by the Legislature and it will certainly help if those citizens in support of this legislation would write the Speaker of the House, the Lt. Governor, and the Governor.

PARKS & WILDLIFE LOCAL BILLS - The House Parks & Wildlife Committee had their organizational meeting this week and one of the committee rules adopted will require a resolution from the County Judge and certified by the County Clerk stating that a public hearing had been held and reasonable notice had been given on any issue to be classified as a "local bill".

This is a constitutional requirement that had been relaxed in previous sessions of the legislature and we have adopted its full force and effect for this session of the legislature to make certain that the people affected are properly advised of any legislation that might affect game management and hunting laws in a given county.

sons. But one glaring fact hits me every day and night when I read the San Antonio newspapers and watch television (and listen to radio); someone forgot to tell the San Antonio merchants people are not spending money. They are still advertising like crazy.

And I'll lay you a plugged dime to my bank account (which isn't worth too much more than that) that those dumb San Antonio merchants are reaping many dollars from that money Hondo area residents "are not spending right now."

NEW PAYROLLS HELP

Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce board meeting the subject of new industry came up, as it nearly always does. The age-old question of course is: "What can we do to attract new industry?"

Additional payrolls have been added, or are about to be. These include the Air Force GCA site that Randolph maintains at the airbase. It has some 8 or 9 people with at least four of them living in town; the new weather radar site will employ 6 or 7; and it is rumored that Gary Aircraft is starting a new metal furniture operation that will add to their payroll.

This latter rumor points up one important fact: expansion of existing industry can be as beneficial as bringing in new industry -- and sometimes not half so costly.

So, perhaps while we are seeking new industry -- and we certainly should continue to explore every possible avenue to attract new industry -- we should also offer every assistance possible in helping existing industries to expand.

Respiratory ailments decrease in schools

After two weeks of heavy absenteeism that at one time closed D'Hanis and Natalia schools, attendance appears to be nearing normal in Medina County.

Both D'Hanis and Natalia schools reported attendance was approaching normal for this time of year when contacted Wednesday morning.

NEED MONEY? Look around your place for those unused items someone else may use. List them in a Hondo Anvil Herald classified ad. Dial 426-3346--you can charge it.

In Hondo, high school attendance was about normal for early February, and absenteeism had dropped off at Meyer Elementary School.

Meyer school reported 125 absences last week Friday and Wednesday there were 70 absentees.

Lacy School reported 58 absences last week Friday and Wednesday's count showed 46 out. The figure approaches the early February average, according to principal E. J. Hilsher, Jr.

Neither Medina Valley nor Devine schools had been hit by the viral respiratory ailment.

LIBRARY MEMBERSHIP CARDS . . . were being mailed this week by Librarian Mrs. Lottie L. Maw, standing, and Mrs. L. E. Gross, seated, membership chairman of Friends of the Library.

Membership drive starts

A membership drive for Hondo Public Library was launched this week by Friends of the Library, a non-profit organization of volunteer workers, whose purpose is to make the library known to all the citizens of this area.

In years past, the Hondo Public Library asked for support in the form of membership gifts, and it is now the function of the Friends to do this for them. Any person interested in supporting the continued growth of the library may become a member of Friends.

Memberships will enable the library to supplement the limited budget of the city and county funds available. With help there will be more funds for new books, materials, more furnishings, and eventually the expansion of the present facility.

Since its inception in Nov. 1970, the Friends group has completed a highly successful project -- the printing and sale of the "Hondo Holiday Cookbook". Support of this project is providing funds to buy new furnishings necessary for 500 new books recently added to the library by the State of Texas. Other projects for the future are being planned.

Annual memberships are general, $1.00; contributing, $5.00; sustaining, $10.00 and patron, $25.00. Lifetime memberships are $250. Memberships may be sent to Friends of the Library, 1207 28th St., Hondo, Texas 78861.

Chamber of Commerce will be employment clearing house here

As a part of continuing effort to be responsive to the needs of the Hondo area community, the Hondo Chamber of Commerce will begin a new program to assist area individuals who are seeking employment and local employers who are in need of workers.

Any area person who is in need of employment may now place an application for work with the Hondo Chamber of Commerce. This application card will provide the basic information about type of work desired, past work experience and how to contact the individual when a job opportunity is available.

All area employers who are in need of workers may utilize this new service by placing a job order with the Chamber of Commerce. This job order will list the type of job available, skill requirements and the name of the employer placing the order. This will allow the Chamber to act as a focal point in bringing together those who are seeking work with employers who are in need of workers.

Technical assistance will be provided on a periodical basis by the Texas Employment Commission.

All persons in need of employment and all employers who are in need of workers are urged to visit or call the Hondo Chamber of Commerce and take advantage of this new program.

Credit info

Mr. and Mrs. George Pletz and Mrs. Chris Hostetler of the Credit Bureau of Medina County have returned from a four-day credit seminar. Many items of interest were covered including the new Fair Credit Reporting Act. This will become effective April 25, and will affect the merchant, the consumer and the Credit Bureau.

Mallings are being sent immediately to the business people of this area, by your local Credit Bureau, to familiarize them with this law.

Susan Meyer

Susan Meyer chosen one of 'Ten Most Beautiful' coeds

Susan Meyer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Henry Meyer of Hondo, has been selected one of the 'Ten Most Beautiful' coeds at the University of Texas. Movie actor Charlton Heston selected the 10 from photographs of 26 finalists who had been chosen from a field of 200 after two rounds of judging.

The contest was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, professional society for women in journalism.

The following is reprinted from The Daily Texan, university publication.

Susan Meyer, a junior home economics major from Hondo, plans to enter fashion merchandising after graduation.

Sponsored by Chi Omega in the competition, Miss Meyer said she has valued "association with so many different kinds of people" above anything else during her three years at the University.

She feels education at a large university is more valuable than that at a small school because "a large school has a greater variety of people, more like the situation a student will face after he graduates."

The tall brunette, who hopes to be a fashion buyer, feels women should dictate fashion instead of having their wardrobes dictated by the fashion industry. "A good buyer is responsive to what women want," she said.

She cited the overstocking of mid-length dresses last fall as an example of buyers who were not aware of what their customers wanted.

Though the mid-length is not her favorite, Miss Meyer does feel fashion is becoming freer. "People can wear what they want," she said. "I also think styles are becoming more feminine."

Miss Meyer has difficulty listing hobbies and interests because "I'm interested in almost anything." She is an avid sports fan and likes to ski. She is active in her sorority, serving as secretary.

She enjoys almost anything which involves other people. "Family and friends have always been important to me," said Miss Meyer.

She feels a coed's life should be a balanced one, leaving ample time for both studies and social life.

She does not believe coeds have changed a great deal in the last few years. She thinks her own views have become more liberal since she entered the University, however.

Miss Meyer will complete a double concentration in fashion and textiles and home economics education next year. After that she probably will spend a year in graduate school or in a fashion institute, learning more about fashion merchandising.

She attained a 3.8 grade point average last semester and maintained a 3.4 overall average.

A look at the course load required of home economics majors should end the image of that field as an "easy major," Miss Meyer said.

At the Miss Carizo Springs Pageant in November, Diane Schulte was honored as a special representative from Hondo.

On Thursday evening, Jan. 29, "Miss Hondo" Diane Schulte was honored as a special guest at the Miss Bandera County Pageant in Bandera. She appeared on stage to extend congratulations and answer questions as the finalists awaited the judges' decision.

During December, she was a guest of the Lions Club at their annual "Ladies Night" held at Hermann Sons Steak House.

At the Miss Carizo Springs Pageant in November, Diane Schulte was honored as a special representative from Hondo.

Our 1971 phone directories are ready for distribution. BellTel Manager JESS LEDBETTER can be glad not to be responsible for the 14 million books that the New York branch distributes annually.

Environmentalists in that area complain that the discarded books are becoming an excessive waste burden.

Since this waste represents about 140,000 tons of paper as disposition of outdated directories, this presents a monster problem. Anyone here in the market for recycled paper?

With our Junior Livestock Show in the news this week, my roving eye scanned a current essay called "Dissertation upon live pig".

From it I learned that Ralph Waldo Emerson had once served the famous old town of Concord, Mass., as "hog-reeve" -- a term completely foreign to me. But, that's what dictionaries and reference books are for and this is what I learned:

Since most families in those days owned a few pigs, they often had the problem of trying to recover their porkers when they went AWOL. The job of capturing the strays was traditionally assigned to Concord bride-grooms who were called "vice-presidents in charge of this job", or "hog-reeves".

Emerson acquired the "title" when he married his second wife, Lydia Jackson, in 1835.

VERLEAN MUMME (Mrs. Kenneth) FLORY and DOROTHY (Mrs. Joe) EMBREY have been friends since little-girl school days. Both are HHS '47 graduates. Both were married the following year.

When the Florys returned to Hondo last June, it was a return home for them and Verlean says "There's no place like home in Hondo!" Her "busy work", between domestic duties, is assisting Dorothy in her flower shop and the couple say they "took up right where they left off" when their interests separated them for some 20 years.

Have you renewed your membership in the Medina County Association for Exceptional Children? Now is the time for that -- and for new members to join. All donations are tax deductible.

Another good cause for which appeals are in the mail this week is for memberships in Friends of the Library, perhaps our newest non-profit organization.

Real profits will accrue as results of the Friends' energetic efforts help our Hondo Public Library to grow and grow and GROW, as it must to serve the needs of our growing community.

If you want one of the popular cookbooks issued by the Friends, better hurry. Over 400 have been sold!

Sharing the pride of WARD (Mrs. Paul) POPE as grandparents of twin granddaughters are the JOHN HENRY BOEHLES and the JAMES GRUNEWALDS.

And, since they "just happened to have" pictures of the winsome little lovelies handy, their friends have been introduced to the quartet of future belles. Happy families!

Pat Grunewald told me she had been busy sewing popped-off buttons on Grandpa G's shirt. As for Grandpa B, he is having a go at batching it while Grandmother B is helping mind the twins for a few days.

When I met Mrs. GENEVA LEE as we were registering to vote, she told me that she worked in Devine but lived in Moore "a one-street town".

By contrast, she said "Hondo is such a big city that I get lost almost every time I come here on business!"

OSCAR BADER of Hondo was also transacting business in his old "home" in the courthouse. When I inquired about his state of health, he gave his usual cheery reply, "If I felt any better, I probably couldn't stand it!"

Owls drop overtime thriller to Devine

Hondo and Devine tangled in a ding-donger Friday night on the Warhorse court, and it took an overtime before the Owls won 64-57.

The score was tied 8 times in the hotly contested affair, and the lead changed hands 7 times.

Eric Grant and Keith (Kebo) Ligon teamed to knot the score at 54-54 just as the final buzzer went off.

With seconds ticking away, Grant drove the middle in desperation, was cut off about the free throw line, and went into the air with his shot.

The ball caromed off the left side of the ring, but Ligon went up to put in the rebound.

Devine's Ted Shults led all scorers with 19 points, with Ligon pacing Hondo with 18. Two other Warhorses and two additional Owls were in double figures. Elly Hernandez and Paul Jette both had 13 for Devine, while James Batteau scored 12 for the Owls and Lonnie Knowles hit 11.

The Warhorses used the fast break—something new for Devine this season, since the Warhorses all but refused to run and shoot last year—and some devastating outside shooting to subdue the Owls.

Hondo also used run and shoot to advantage, and Coach Dan Keath's Owls hit well from outside, too. In fact, both teams had 25 field goals.

The teams played to a 16-16 first quarter standoff, before Devine turned in a hot 22-point second period while the Owls were getting 17.

Both teams cooled in the second half as the Owls outscored the home club 11-6 to tie the game at the end of the third quarter.

Although fourth quarter play was tight, the teams divided 20 points evenly between them.

Out in front 53-50 with 2:45 on the clock, Devine tried to stall to victory, but a pair of baskets by Ligon sent the game into overtime.

The Owls were impotent in overtime, scoring only 3 points to 110 for the Warhorses, with Hernandez and Gary Smith accounting for all the Horse points.

Shults opened the game's overtime, scoring only 3 points to 110 for the Warhorses, with Hernandez and Gary Smith accounting for all the Horse points. Shults opened the game's overtime, scoring only 3 points to 110 for the Warhorses, with Hernandez and Gary Smith accounting for all the Horse points.

Batteau's 12 foot jumper tied the score at 8-8, but a 15 footer by Jette and a fast break bucket by Chris Wiemers restored the Devine lead.

After Shults' short shot put Devine in front 14-11, Ligon hit a free throw, and with a minute on the clock, Knowles stole the ball and dribbled in to knot the score at 14-14.

Shults retaliated with a 10 foot jump shot, but Batteau took a rebound off the board and hit on his jumper from about 4 feet away, tying the score at 16-16 as the quarter ended.

Less than 20 seconds into the second quarter, Hernandez put in a rebound to restore the Warhorse lead, and about 20 seconds later Knowles again stole the ball to dribble in for the game tying layup.

Then Devine took charge.

Jette converted a pair of free throws, and Hernandez hooked in a bucket off the pivot. Jette swished a 20 foot jump shot, before Tom Hill connected from 15 feet on the baseline and Ligon dropped in a 10 footer off the pivot.

Hernandez countered with a 12 footer jumper, and Jette sneaked through the Owl defense to layup two more points.

The hot shooting Warhorses continued the onslaught with a 20 footer by Wiemers, and a pair of 15 footers by Shults.

With 2:49 remaining in the quarter, Devine was out in front, 34-24.

From there until half-time, the Owls got 9 points while Devine added only 4 more, and Hondo had the lead cut to 38-33 at intermission.

Shults scored a layup on a beautifully executed tip off play to open the third quarter, but Hill drove the Horse defense for a layup, Ligon laid in a basket on the fast break, Batteau sank a free throw, and Grant tied it up at 40-40 with 2:37 remaining when he drove the middle.

With 1:36 to go, Ligon scored on the front end of another Owl fast break, and the Owls were out in front 42-40.

Free throws by Shults and Smith tied the game again, before Knowles drove the baseline with 1:07 for a 44-42 Owl lead.

However, Hernandez connected from the corner with 45 seconds left to leave the score tied 44-44 at the end of the third quarter.

Jette opened fourth quarter scoring with a charity toss, and Batteau countered with a 15 footer. Shults matched that basket with a 12 footer of his own, and with 5:29 left, Knowles laid up a basket on the fast break for a 48-47 Hondo lead.

Wiemers pumped in a 20 footer with 4:42 on the clock, and Jette stretched the lead with a pair of free throws. Grant drove to daylight in the Horse defense to cut the Devine lead to 51-50, but Smith rebounded for a 53-50 lead and the Warhorses began their stall.

Ligon fouled Shults for a one and one, the Warhorse hitting the first and missing the second to make the board read 54-50 with less than 2 minutes to go.

With 1:42 remaining Ligon and Hill streaked down the floor on the fast break. When Hill was checked, he flipped the ball behind his back to Ligon who leaped and laid the ball in off the board.

Devine tried to stall out the clock, but Smith was called for traveling with 22 seconds showing. The call set up the Grant-Ligon combination that tied the game as the regulation time ended.

With 2:04 left in the 3 minutes overtime, Hernandez hit a 6 foot jumper. Devine again started the stall, and with 1:09 left, Smith drove the frantic Owl defense for a basket.

The Owls got back to within 2 points on Gordon Wiemers' 10 footer from the side, but from then on, it was all Devine as the Owls fouled attempting to get the ball.

Wiemers fouled Smith with 36 seconds left, again with 9 seconds to go, and Ligon fouled him with but 6 seconds on the clock. Smith hit 4 free throws to sew it up.

With about 4 seconds on the clock, Hernandez connected on a 6 footer, and Knowles was fouled as the buzzer went off. The Owl's free throw brought the final score to 64-57.

The win was vital to Devine since the Warhorses are a game out of first place in the district. Coach Ralph Harris's Owls have lost one district game, while Carrizo Springs is undefeated in 100 play.

Both coaches were unhappy with the officiating, and even the usually quiet Keath was off the bench repeatedly in protest.

Smith, the Owls' leading scorer and a top rebounder, was called for three quick fouls in the first quarter. Harris benched him over half the quarter and all of the second period.

The Warhorse started the second half, but picked up foul number 4 with 5:27, and Harris pulled him again. Smith went back in with 1:31 of the third period remaining, and didn't foul out until the final seconds of the overtime.

Pointers given on deer herds

Deer hunting season of 1970 is now history. But it is not too early for farmers and ranchers of the Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District to start planning the deer harvest of 1971.

There are several observations that can be made that may influence the harvest of deer during the 1971 hunting season. Just as there are things that a cow man looks for to determine how his cattle are doing, there are indicators of how a deer herd is doing. Those are the more obvious signs such as thin, rough coated deer feeding throughout the day. This is an indication that high quality forage for deer is in short supply or non-existent.

A small fawn crop is a sign that the deer herd is not doing well. A mature doe in good health will have two fawns each year. In a healthy deer herd most of the fawns will be born in a short period of time because does in good condition breed and conceive more easily than does in poor condition. In a healthy deer herd, does should average raising one and a half fawns each or a 150% fawn crop.

Another indication of an unhealthy deer herd is a large percent of bucks which are spikes. The ability to produce large antlers is probably inherited to some extent. More important is the quality and quantity of forage available for the deer. Deer are grazing animals and must compete with other grazing animals for forage.

The first two to three years of a buck's life is the period of body growth. The feed he consumes goes first for body growth and what is not needed for body growth goes for antler growth. Antlers are true bone and are developed each year in about six months from Mid-March to September. For a buck to produce large antlers he must inherit this ability and, more important, he must have access to an abundant supply of high quality forage. It has been demonstrated several times by research and observation that a yearling buck with good feed can be an eight point buck. A spike buck is a spike either because he did not have enough high quality forage or because he is an inferior animal or the species.

The basic principals of deer herd management are the same as for livestock. This includes balancing the herd with available forage. The best method to accomplish this is to harvest more deer to bring their numbers in line with the forage that is being produced or reduce numbers of domestic livestock that compete with deer for forage.

Nieves Esparza

Airman Nieves Esparza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Esiquio Esparza of Devine, has received his first U. S. Air Force duty assignment after completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas. The airman has been assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command at Carswell AFB, Texas. Airman Esparza is a 1966 graduate of Devine High School and attended Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos. His wife is the former Herlinda Hernandez of San Antonio.

Muscular dystrophy research continues

Income from the November 17th Mothers March Against Muscular Dystrophy in Hondo was $515.89 as reported by campaign treasurer, Tommy Hollmig. On behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Mr. Hollmig expresses appreciation to all who helped in the Mothers March Against Muscular Dystrophy.

A research breakthrough at the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America Research Center, the Institute for Muscle Disease has made possible the successful treatment of chickens having a hereditary form of muscular dystrophy. Not only is the usual continual deterioration of muscle arrested in these experiments but actual growth of new muscle fiber occurs even in advanced cases in which the muscle has been almost entirely replaced by fat.

The Hondo campaign is a part of a nationwide fund raising campaign in effort to apply this discovery to the treatment of human muscular dystrophy.

Poerner gets legislative committee appointments

Texas Speaker Gus F. Mutscher has named State Representative John Poerner of Hondo as vice chairman of the House Livestock Committee for the 62nd Legislative session.

"Representative Poerner's legislative experience and ranching background will greatly add to the effectiveness of this committee," Mutscher said.

Poerner will also serve on the State Affairs Committee, the Parks and Wildlife Committee, the Conservation and Reclamation Committee and the Mental Health and Mental Retardation Committee.

"The appointment of Representative Poerner as vice chairman of the Livestock Committee is an acknowledgment of his important role in the Texas House," Mutscher said.

The 17-member committee considers all matters relating to the livestock industry.

KRME
Announcer
and D.J.

Hello, friends and neighbors. Welcome back into another exciting edition of what's happening on the music scene.

First of all, Ronnie Mason (KRME's morning man and singing D.J.) would like to thank all of you fine people for coming to the free dances in the Hondo and Biry area. One of the greatest feelings in the world is to meet one of your listeners at a dance having a fun time. It's said Hondo is the hub of all excitement. Everything happens around it.

I hope everybody enjoyed the Junior Livestock show. You talk about competition, this year's show was packed with good looking animals. Needless to say these young people took pride in their hard work.

On the Top 20 this week you will find quite a few new

Junior GI Forum sets activities

By Sylvia Oranday

The Junior GI Forum held a meeting Jan. 21 at Evelia Dominguez's house. All officers and members attended.

We discussed a trip to San Antonio to an area meeting on Sunday, Jan. 24, and planned a dance to be held later. We swore in nine new members.

After the meeting was adjourned we held a "going away" party for Harriett Flores.

songs. Norma Jean, Goldsboro, Nelson, Robbins, Husky, and Statler Brothers are the artists with the numbers. KRME's pick hit "Bridge Over Troubled Waters", written by Paul Simon, has that smooth country touch by the co-star of HEE HAW, Buck Owens. Watch it, I think it will go up on charts around the country.

Dolly Parton, one of the most talented and good looking female artists in the business, has the privilege of having our new number one song. A woman who is married and used to write music while a housewife until she sent Porter Wagoner one of her songs. About that time Norma Jean wanted to quit the Porter Wagoner Show so she could spend more time at home. Dolly filled Norma's place on the show just beautifully.

I would like area band members to write me with information concerning their country bands and some of the places you may be appearing. Also, if you have any recordings send them so I can play them on my show and help promote your group.

Well folks, it's almost show time and I must go. I'll see you on the 1460 spot on your AM dial for the finest in country entertainment.
